

Hope Speech Differences of Autism

Delayed Development or Low Development

Children with autism may start speaking later than their neurotypical peers or may have little to no functional communication

Differences in Tone

Children with autism may speak with atypical intonation patterns

Echolalia & Scripting

Children with autism may repeat certain words or phrases, including ones from books and media

Pragmatic Language Difficulties

Children with autism may have trouble using language in certain social contexts or display difficulty with reciprocity and turn-taking when speaking

